Also under Other Information, is the option of changing the employee's Leave Report or checking on his Leave Balance. A Warning indicates that the leave balance may be insufficient for the number of hours on the time sheet.

At this time, you have the option of Returning for Correction which will re-open the time sheet. You will have to inform the employee of this action by phone or email. The employee can correct his time sheet and again submit it for approval. Clicking on any of the links under Other Information will bring up the Employee Detailed Information page. You will see the employee's Leave Report hours, his Leave Balances and any Comments.

To aid in approving your employee's leave records, there is a Banner report available called NQRLVCK, Leave Report Check List. It is run through Banner Job Submission.

This report provides a list of employee names, the status of the employee's leave report and the hours that have been entered. You can use this list to reconcile your employee's hours with what he requested. This will be helpful during that narrow window of time between when the employee submits his timesheet for approval and before the records are actually approved by the approver.
