6. Discussion of CTL with Frank Vaskelis and Erick Raznick: There was much discussion of access to CTL by adjunct faculty. Only a few faculty are interested in learning how to create their own web pages, most faculty just want to get information onto the web easier, and they want the CTL to maintain websites. Discussed possible alternate modes of training: one-on-one, by department, by division. Anyta Archer is currently available for individual appointments on Tuesdays and Fridays. It was suggested that CTL may consider having a student assistant, as a way to increase availability without adding more employees.
